Additional de-mand was also created by the comparatively firm tone of the primary markets and a co." tinued receipt of orders from the south to purchase. Indeed, for a time matters were mite buoyant, and the 'bulls' had the posttion pretty much their own way. During the atternoon, however, the cable weakened triffe in the tenor of accounts from abroad, and the receipts at the interior towns running up somewhat there was a lull in the demand, a more confident offering and break of several points from the extreme.
